Pickett's journey to the AFL is an inspiring story of overcoming adversity and achieving dreams. He grew up in a small town in Western Australia and faced many challenges in his early life. He was raised by a single mother and had to overcome poverty and racism. Despite these challenges, Pickett never gave up on his dream of playing AFL football.

Pickett's story is one of belief and determination. He never doubted that he could achieve his dreams, even when others told him otherwise. He worked hard and never gave up, and eventually he achieved his goal of playing AFL football.

Pickett's story is an inspiration to us all. It shows us that anything is possible if we believe in ourselves and never give up on our dreams.

Early life

Marlion Pickett was born on 10 March 1990 in Northam, Western Australia. He is the son of Noongar woman Colleen Pickett and a white father. Pickett's parents separated when he was young, and he was raised by his mother. Pickett grew up in poverty, and he and his mother often had to move house. Pickett attended Northam Senior High School, where he played Australian rules football for the school team. He was a talented player, but he was not considered to be a future AFL star.

WAFL career

After graduating from high school, Pickett began playing WAFL football for the East Perth Football Club. He played for East Perth for five seasons, and he was a member of the club's premiership team in 2012. Pickett was a key forward for East Perth, and he was known for his strength, agility, and goal-kicking ability.

In 2014, Pickett was drafted by the Richmond Football Club with pick 75 in the AFL Rookie Draft. Pickett played for Richmond's reserves team in 2015, and he made his AFL debut in 2016. Pickett had a successful debut season, and he was a member of Richmond's premiership team in 2017.

AFL career

Pickett has been a key forward for Richmond since his debut in 2016. He is a strong and athletic player who is a good mark and kick. Pickett has been a member of Richmond's premiership teams in 2017, 2019, and 2020.

In 2019, Pickett won the AFL Goal of the Year award for his goal against the Geelong Cats in the preliminary final. Pickett's goal was a remarkable effort, and it helped Richmond to reach the Grand Final.

Pickett is a role model for many young Indigenous Australians. He is a proud Noongar man, and he is passionate about helping others to achieve their dreams. Pickett is a strong advocate for social justice, and he often speaks out against racism and discrimination.

Personal life

Pickett is married to Jessica Naylor, and they have two children. Pickett is a devout Christian, and he is a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. Pickett is also a keen fisherman and hunter.

Legacy
