Malve von Hassell's debut novel, Turtle Crossing, is a poignant and lyrical exploration of the complexities of family, loss, and the search for purpose. Set against the backdrop of the stunning Australian outback, the novel follows the journey of a young woman named Miriam as she grapples with the sudden death of her mother.

In the wake of her loss, Miriam feels lost and adrift. She leaves her home in the city and travels to the remote outback, where she hopes to find solace in the vastness of the landscape. As she travels, she encounters a cast of characters who each have their own unique stories of loss and redemption.

A Journey of Discovery

Through her interactions with these characters, Miriam begins to confront her own grief and to question the meaning of her life. She learns about the importance of family, the power of forgiveness, and the resilience of the human spirit. Along the way, she also discovers a newfound appreciation for the beauty and fragility of the natural world.

Turtle Crossing is a beautifully written novel that will resonate with anyone who has ever experienced loss. It is a story of hope, healing, and the power of human connection. Von Hassell's writing is both lyrical and evocative, and she paints a vivid picture of the Australian outback. The novel's characters are complex and relatable, and their stories will stay with you long after you finish reading.

Themes of Family, Loss, and Purpose
