A Showcase of Calligraphic Mastery

Three distinct fonts, each meticulously crafted, grace the pages of this book. From the flowing strokes of Copperplate to the intricate flourishes of Spencerian, and the elegant curves of Italic, every letter is a testament to the dedication and talent of the calligraphers. The result is a visual feast that invites you to linger over each page, admiring the subtle nuances and breathtaking artistry.

Just as one would wish to speak not only clearly but with some civilized and musical quality of grace, so one may write and the writing be worthy of the name of Calligraphy - by which is meant handwriting considered as an Art.

Alfred Fairbank

Try the following on your current version of Spencerian writing. An amount of practice, with accurate recollection & precision, are what is needed to learn the necessary forms. The Strokes, Spacing & the Joining of Letters are real time changes from moment to moment, in a flood of continuous experience. The result produced, causing no conscience of error, is well formed letters & sentences.

Eleven Poems to Stir the Soul

Complementing the exquisite calligraphy are eleven carefully selected poems that explore a range of emotions and themes. From the whimsical musings of e.e. cummings to the profound insights of William Blake, each poem is a masterpiece in its own right, offering a unique perspective on the human experience.

“The world is too much with us; late and soon, Getting and spending, we lay waste our powers; Little we see in Nature that is ours; We have given our hearts away, a sordid boon!” Excerpt from "The World Is Too Much with Us" by William Wordsworth”
